

Hogan Lovells

Countdown to SMCR: What insurers need to know

The FCA has confirmed that the Senior Managers & Certification Regime (SMCR) will take effect for insurers on 10 December 2018, with the rules being extended to cover all regulated financial firms (including any insurance intermediaries in insurance groups) in mid to late 2019. The new regime will impact nearly all staff within financial services organisations, and firms need to consider how they should be preparing for the change ahead.

Please join specialists from our financial services, regulatory investigations and enforcement and employment teams for a CPD accredited breakfast seminar looking at the impact of the requirements on the insurance industry and how firms can best prepare for this change. Key areas of focus will include:

- A practical overview of the new regime and how this will affect your business, including:
 - The new Senior Management Functions and prescribed responsibilities
 - The new certification regime and duty of responsibility
- Enforcement of the Duty of Responsibility and what it means for insurers and their senior managers
- Employment law issues
- Practical issues for consideration by firms planning for the implementation of the new regime, including practical guidance on creating a Project Plan for implementation and how we can help.

We hope you can join us.

Details

Date

Tuesday, 22 May 2018

Venue

Hogan Lovells
Atlantic House
Holborn Viaduct
London, EC1A 2FG
Map

Time

8:30am Breakfast & registration
9:00am Seminar
10:30am Close

Click here to download a calendar appointment

RSVP TODAY

Contact

Event Organiser

Kelly Power

hoganlovells.com
